Cootes Cottage date back to the 1800's and has been lovingly restored and furnished with period pieces. It is situated in a quiet part of Kenilworth in the heart of the Cape Peninsula within easy distance of Cape Town's many attractions.

It consists of a fully equipped kitchen, a lovely sunny entrance hall, a dining room, a lounge with fireplace and a charming en-suite bedroom with Victorian bathroom.

It has a small, totally private and secluded Japanese style garden with water features.

The cottage is ideally suited to a couple (or two persons) although it can sleep a third person if necessary. It is not suitable for children.

Within 10 minutes enjoy a comfortable drive to Table Mountain National Park, Rhodes Memorial, Kirstenbosch Botanical Gardens, Groot Constantia, the City Bowl, the V&A Waterfront or the beaches in False Bay, Table Bay, Hout Bay or the Atlantic Seaboard.

If you wish to entertain we can configure the cottage to allow you to seat up to 25 guests for a full dinner. We can provide the caterers (or you may use your own) and we will take care of every detail to ensure a memorable occasion.

Indulge in the old world surroundings of Cootes Cottage with its intimate elegance, charm of a bygone era and careful attention to detail.

John and Colleen, the friendly owners, live 3 minutes walk away and are always delighted to help and advise you.
